

Prescot Museum, in partnership with Big Heritage, are delighted to present

Living HISTORY Workshops

Our Living History sessions are historical interactive workshops that can be delivered at your school, for Foundation stage through to Key Stage 2 classes. We can also deliver our sessions in informal learning settings.

Our approach brings history to life through engaging, entertaining, educating and FUN! We can offer exciting sessions in the following areas: 'Victorian Home Life', 'Victorian Toys', 'WWI workshop' (new for 2014), 'WWII Evacuee', 'Vikings and Saxons', 'Roman Britain' 'The Tudors' and 'Prehistory'.

From November 2013, the Living History outreach programme for primary schools is delivered in partnership with Big Heritage, an award winning heritage-based social enterprise engaging museums, schools and communities with the past.

If you are a primary school interested in booking a workshop, visit <http://bigheritage.co.uk/bookingsystem/> and you can check availability and book your workshop. Information regarding your booking will then be sent to you directly.
